ATTACK OF THE
WILLY
BITING
MUTANT
TURTLES!

By JIM HARDY

SWIMMERS thinking of diving into Britain's rivers and lakes this summer have been warned of a terrifying threat...

Willy-chomping terrapins, bought and discarded during the Nineties Mutant Ninja Turtles craze, have now grown into MONSTERS which infest most inland waters.

An experts said: "They are starting to adapt more to the English climate and habitat. Like the film, the turtles are somewhat mutating."

Rayner labels leg-flash story as 'disgusting'

ANGELA Rayner has hit out at the sexism and classism she says were behind a newspaper publishing "disgusting" claims by Tory MPs that she tries to distract Boris Johnson with her legs.

The deputy Labour leader (above) said she was "crestfallen" to learn of the claims but feels "heartened" by the public's overwhelming rejection of the article.

She said the Mail on Sunday published the article based on comments from anonymous Tories despite pleas they were "completely untrue".

The article included a quote from one MP, saying Ms Rayner "knows she can't compete with Boris's Oxford Union debating training, but she has other skills which he lacks".

Speaking on ITV's Lorraine, Ms Rayner said of the story: "It wasn't just about me as a woman, it was steeped in classism as well."

Grocery inflation hits 11-year high

THE price of groceries is increasing at its fastest rate in 11 years, adding an extra £271 to what average households will pay at the till this year.

Data from Kantar showed that grocery price inflation hit 5.9% in April, as the number of items on promotion decreased.

It is the fastest rise since December 2011.

A spokesman said: "A lot of this is going on non-discretionary, everyday essentials, which will prove difficult to cut back on."

Campaigner Jack Monroe recently criticised UK supermarkets for taking their cheapest everyday items off shelves.

KID LIVER PLAGUE: IS LOCKDOWN TO BLAME?

A LACK of exposure to a common virus during COVID restrictions could be behind a surge in hepatitis cases among young children.

Health officials are urgently investigating a rise in cases which has led to more than 100 children needing hospital care and liver transplants for 10 British kids.

Since the start of the year, 111 children have required hospital care for liver inflammation (hepatitis), with the majority of cases occurring among those under the age of five.

The leading line of inquiry is that the cases are being fuelled by a common virus called adenovirus.

This virus usually causes mild illness including stomach upsets and colds.

But one theory is the virus is leading to more severe illness among some children due to susceptibility, for example due to lack of prior exposure during the pandemic, according to a technical briefing from the UK Health Security Agency.

Of 53 cases tested, 40 (75%) showed signs of adenovirus infection.

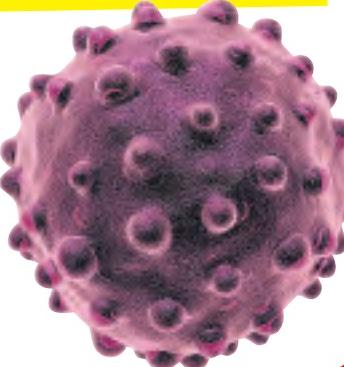

Routine NHS and laboratory data show common viruses circulating in children are currently higher than in previous years and there is a marked increase of adenovirus, particularly in the one to four age group, the UKHSA said.

Other avenues being explored include whether a prior COVID infection followed by an adenovirus infection could be leading to more severe cases or co-infection with the two viruses.

COVID-19 vaccination is not a contributing factor as none which investigated so far were vaccinated.

The cases are predominantly in kids under five who showed initial symptoms of diarrhoea and nausea, then jaundice.

Primark's price hike warning

PRIMARK has warned that it will increase prices on its autumn and winter collection as costs go up for businesses globally.

The budget fashion chain will make "selective" rises in the range, having avoided most pressures from inflation until now because global exchange rates fell in its favour.

But AB Foods, which owns Primark and Twinings and is also a major sugar producer, said the US dollar is strengthening and inflation is soaring, which will force the changes.

Chief Executive George Weston said: "Inflationary pressures are such that we are unable to offset them all with cost savings, and so Primark will implement selective price increases across some of the autumn/winter stock."

"However, we are committed to ensuring our price leadership and everyday affordability, especially in this environment of greater economic uncertainty."

Millions of businesses across the UK are having to make decisions about their prices as the cost of the energy they need to operate has rocketed.

Forest search for kidnap woman

SEARCHES are continuing at a rural beauty spot for a missing woman believed to have been kidnapped.

Police officers assisted by mountain rescue team members and fire crews were yesterday combing parts of Gisburn Forest in Lancashire's Ribble Valley.

Katie Kenyon, 33, from Paditham in Burnley, has not been seen by her worried family since last Friday morning.

Detectives at Lancashire Constabulary have been granted further time to question a 50-year-old Burnley man on suspicion of kidnap.

At 9.30am on Friday, a woman matching Ms Kenyon's description left an address in the town with a man and travelled in a silver Ford Transit to the Bolton-by-Bowland area of north Lancashire.

LEADING THE CHARGE: Actress Jameela Jamil

TEARS OF THE WOKIES!

WOKE celebs sobbed into their laptops yesterday after it emerged that megabucks tycoon Elon Musk had sealed a deal to buy Twitter.

Musk struck a deal to buy the social media platform with a promise to reduce censorship on it, raising questions about what his approach will mean for the "digital town square".

Human rights groups have raised concerns that a lack of moderation could lead to a rise in hate speech.

Many Twitter users are also asking whether this means accounts suspended by the company will be allowed back.

The most high-profile person to have been suspended was former US president Donald Trump.

of celebrities announcing they would abandon Twitter after Musk's purchase, declaring that she would no longer be tweeting.

Musk, who on Monday sealed a £35billion deal for the company, tweeted: "I hope that even my worst critics remain on Twitter, because that is what free speech means."

But actress Jameela, 37, said she wasn't having it.

"Ah he got Twitter," she said. "I would like this to be my what lies here as my last tweet. Just really any excuse to show pics of Barold," she added, attaching a photo of the poodle mix she shares with her boyfriend.

"I fear this free speech bid is going to help this hell platform reach its final form of totally lawless hate, bigotry, and misogyny. Best of luck."

Jameela has since been widely-mocked by people in her replies claiming she's far too much of an attention-seeker to stay off Twitter.

D-DAY VET HARRY, 96, LAID TO REST

HUNDREDS lined the streets for the funeral of Harry Billinge yesterday, one of the first British soldiers to storm Gold Beach during the Normandy landings.

Mr Billinge's coffin was taken through his hometown of St Austell, Cornwall, before a church service in Charlestown.

The D-Day veteran (left) was 96 when he died on April 5, following a short illness.

The former Royal Engineer was just 18 when he landed on the beach at Normandy in 1944, and he was one of only four from his unit to survive.

Margot Billinge, one of his daughters, said on behalf of the family: "Harry was a very loving husband who always looked after mum. He was steadfast in his love for her.

"As a dad, he taught us great values... honesty, kindness, generosity and not to judge."

Mr Billinge spent more than 60 years collecting for the Royal British Legion's Poppy Appeal.

The D-Day hero helped raise more than £50,000 for the British Normandy Memorial and would make annual pilgrimages to the cemeteries of northern France.

He was appointed an MBE in 2020 for his fundraising work.

No change here then, she always looks 'dirty' to me !

SHE has never been afraid to show off her incredible figure.

And Rita Ora left little to the imagination as she posed in a skimpy G-string black bikini in a series of snaps she shared with her followers on Instagram.

The British singer, 31, offered the messy secret to her glowing complexion in a gallery of social media snaps, as she covered herself in mud while enjoying a sunny beach day in Hawaii.

In the snaps, Rita glanced seductively at the camera as she exfoliated her skin and face with the mud, after donning a barely-there bikini for the beach day.

One leered "Dirty girl" while another agreed "She always looks dirty to me!"

Another rasped: "I'd give her a good thrapping", suggesting he would like to slide his erect penis into Rita's sex cave and pump away until spilling his seed.

Another fiend hissed: "I hope it's mud", the clear accusation being that Rita was involved in some vile "scat" play.

Last night a pal of the singer said: "It is clear that Mail readers are motivated by sexism and vile misogyny."

"It's not on."

The singer left her long blonde locks out and appeared to be makeup free.

"Stay hydrated and exfoliate kids," she captioned the playful post.

Meg for President as she snaps up Obama PR guru?

PRINCE Harry and Meghan Markle have hired Barack Obama's former PR guru to help transform their image, as the Suits actor is tipped for a run at politics.

And insiders believe Meg (above) may even be eyeing a run at the US Presidency!

The Duchess of Sussex has previously been accused of using her royal title to "meddle in politics", by lobbying President Joe Biden's team.

The Sussexes are reported to have hired Miranda Balbot, a key figure in getting Obama re-elected in 2012.

Charged with transforming the image of Meghan and Harry, experts believe this could lead her to make a career change.

An insider said: "There are shades of the Clintons, or even the Kennedys."

"It wouldn't be a huge shock now if Meghan went into politics."

HE found fame as the affable-yet-useless sports presenter Alan Partridge.

We won't mention Tony Ferrino...

Then Steve Coogan stood like a slightly-smarmy David against the Goliath of the popular Press, shoulder to shoulder with moral titans such as Nazi sex orgy spanker Max Moseley, racist son of pre-war fascist Sir Oswald.

Now Mr Coogan is back.

Making a comedy about how the #MeToo movement has affected Hollywood could easily hit the wrong note, but creators Coogan and Sarah Solemani apparently pull it off with tongue-in-cheek six-partner, Chivalry.

Intimacy

It follows indie director Bobby (Solemani) as she helps producer Cameron (Coogan) – who is terrified of being "cancelled" – to finish a "problematic" film.

They bring in an intimacy coordinator to re-examine a sex scene with Sienna Miller – one of many starry cast members and cameos (reminiscent of Extras) that include Wanda Sykes, Aisling Bea, Paul Rudd and Lolly Adefope.

As stabbings in London are out-of-control, Mayor blathers...

DON'T SAY 'DRAMA QUEEN'

THE streets of London may be increasingly awash with blood from the wounds of stabbing victims, but the capital's mayor reckons he's stumbled on a solution...

Don't say DRAMA QUEEN!

There have been five stabbings, a shooting and an acid attack in London all in the past week alone. And 2021 now holds the grim title of being the record year for teenage homicides in the city.

Even former boxing champion Amir Khan – who used to twat people into submission for a living – now says London is "a very dangerous place" after muggers took his £70,000 watch.

But the Labour mayor, Sadiq Khan, who is often criticised for his apparent obsession with traffic calming measures rather than rising knife crime, claims to have found an answer. He tweeted: "Violence against women and girls starts with words."

"Look out for these sexist phrases, challenge them, and cut them out of your vocabulary."

"Boys will be boys,"

"She's asking for it. My ex-girlfriend is crazy. She's such a drama queen."

One enraged Twitter commentator replied: "Yes, that'll do it. Just like listening to Robocop – not."

She wrote: "Very sad to say that Richie and I are no longer a couple. He has left the family home."

"We will be doing our best to co-parent our small children."

Skelton and 31-year-old rugby league player Myler have three children – sons Ernie and Louis, and baby daughter Elsie Kate, who was born in December last year.

Skelton told Hello! magazine in January: "I was convinced I was having a girl."

"Now I am totally embracing the pink."

MUTANT TURTLES WILL BITE OFF YOUR WILLY!

GOOLY GRIPPERS: Terrapins are on the loose

By JIM HARDY news@sundaysport.co.uk

NUDE swimmers taking to Britain's lakes this summer have been warned their privates could get CHOMPED OFF by MUTANT NINJA TURTLES!

The bollock-biting nightmare is looming this summer thanks to the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle kids' craze more than 30 years ago.

The 1990s craze saw children wanting red-eared terrapins the size of 50p coins as pets but families quickly tired of the creatures which were dumped in lakes.

Now at an estimated 4,000, with numbers multiplying rapidly, some monsters are growing to the size of small dustbin lids.

People cooling off in lakes and rivers could find themselves under a turtly terrifying attack from hidden chompers lurking below.

And it's feared the problem of turtle attacks could be worse this year thanks to the surge in popularity of so-called 'wild swimming'.

The creatures have razor-sharp teeth and can quickly bite off a finger, a toe or even a bloke's dangly bits.

In Berkshire, turtles have been spotted in South Lake, Woodley, with the arrival of warmer weather.

Increase

Visitor Warren White can remember seeing small terrapins there 30 years ago when he often fished in the lake.

"It looks like they have grown into a bigger family now," he said.

Staff at Chiswick House in London have noticed a huge increase in terrapin numbers.

Estates assistant Conor Bakhuizen said: "One of our rangers was told by an academic that 'no still body of water in the whole of the south of England is free from turtles and terrapins thanks to the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles'.

"On the recent growth in numbers, we cannot be sure as to the exact reason but one theory is that they are starting to adapt more to the English climate and habitat.

"Like the film, the turtles are mutating."

Suzie Simpson, a PHD student at Kent University, runs Turtle Tally UK, which tracks the number of terrapins across the nation.

At least 4,000 are thought to be living wild in the UK, and London has the most, but they have been spotted as far north as Inverness.

Last week, Suzie made a 300-mile round trip from Kent to Bristol to save a pet terrapin that had been released into a small pond at King's Weston House.

The Natural History Museum's terrapins are colonising ponds, lakes and watercourses.

Nature experts say mild winters have helped them survive because and thrive.

The Canal and River Trust said: "They come from North American swamps so they love warm weather."

"We're concerned that the trend of increasing temperatures will give terrapins the conditions they need to breed, which could be a disaster for some native wildlife."

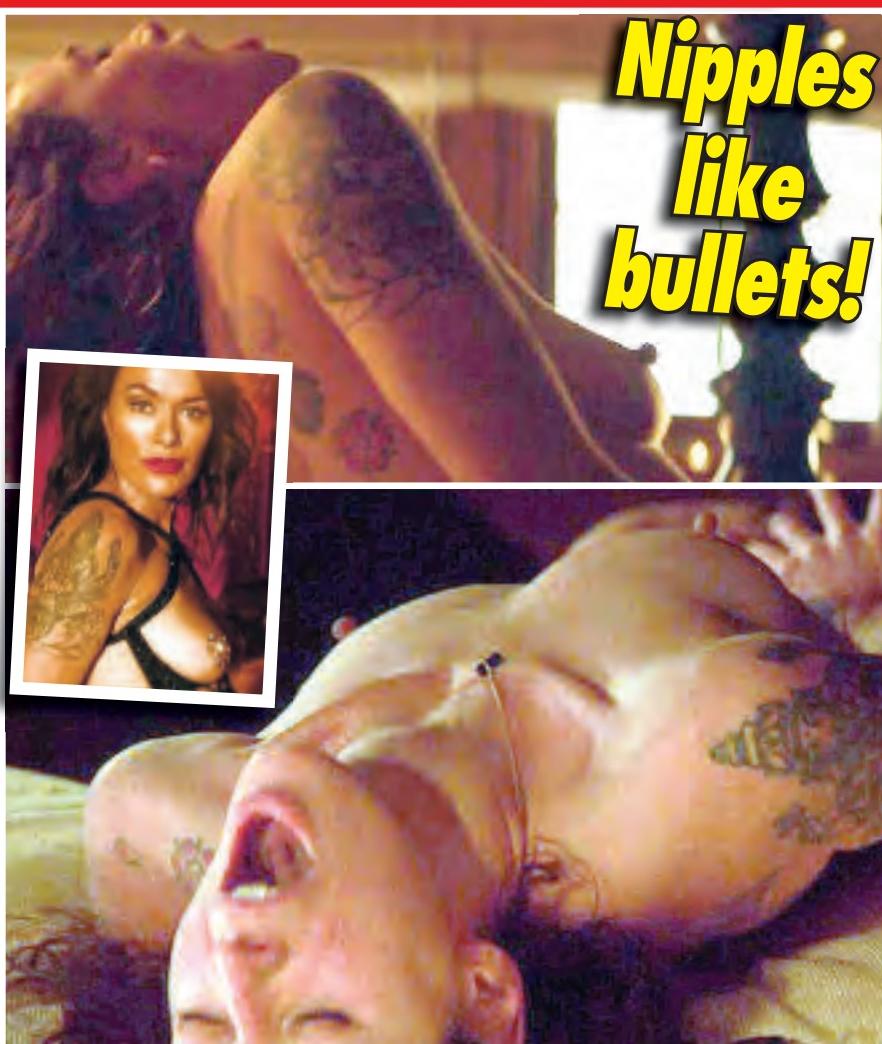

It is illegal to release terrapins, which can live 40 years, into the wild.

Calls for a 'thank holiday'

BUSINESS leaders have urged the prime minister to make this year's extra bank holiday for the Queen's Platinum Jubilee permanent.

The CBI, UK Hospitality and a host of well-known brands said a "thank holiday" every year on June 3 would honour the monarch.

Signatories said the holiday would "provide a moment every year for individuals and communities to come together, to thank those who have contributed in ways big and small to making our country a better place to live".

Man shot dead for 'not paying hooker for sex'

A MAN was shot to death after he "failed to pay a prostitute for sex".

Cops found the unnamed 39-year-old victim lying on the pavement in West Palm Beach, Florida.

Paramedics pronounced him dead at the scene.

Crime investigators found evidence leading to the arrest of Ainsley Gayle Jr. (above) of West Palm Beach.

A witness told police she had "solicited the victim for sex" but he didn't pay for her services, so she "drove to Riviera Beach to pick up two men".

Gayle was one of them and police said the trio then drove back and the two men confronted the victim.

The witness told cops that Gayle shot and killed the victim with a semi-automatic pistol.

The murder was captured on surveillance video.

Gayle, 25, has been charged with first-degree premeditated murder with a firearm and possession of a weapon by a convicted felon.

Outrage as Cadiz allows nudists on EVERY beach

LOCALS are furious after a seaside town voted to allow nudists on every beach.

José María González, the mayor of Cadiz in Andalucía, Spain, has created division after scrapping the law which allowed cops to curb nude beachgoers.

It means every beach in the area will now allow nudism, sparking concern about areas where young children might be.

Carmen Sánchez said it could lead to problems for locals as "the beaches are inside the city".

The spokesman for the Popular Party warned that "what is naturism in one place is exhibitionism 15 metres further on".

Ester Canero, president of the Cadiz Association of Large Families, said: "We live in a free country. But there are things I do not support and cannot agree with."

KNIT WITS!

Barmy wokies say old dears' pastime is RACIST

FIRST it was statues, then it was street names and books by white authors...

Now left-wing radicals have KNITTING in their sights as they aim to "decolonise Britain".

What's more, the loons are using taxpayers' money to do it.

Taxpayers' cash is being spent to "decolonise" English museums, which depict a history written by "white, wealthy, able-bodied men".

Arts Council England has poured millions of hardworking Britons' money into Museum Development England, which said museums in the country, including attractions dedicated to cricket and knitwear, need help with "equity and inclusion".

There is outrage at the lengths to which woke museum and arts bosses are going to scrub museums of history in an attempt to seem inclusive and diverse.

Oppression

The advisory body gave guidance to attraction bosses during a training scheme that allegedly showed how "racist narratives" and "implicit racism" can occur in museums because the history we all learned about has been mostly written by "white men".

Museum Development England's guidance said: "History is written by the winners and in Europe and the British Empire, the winners tend to have been white, wealthy, able-bodied men."

"There is a call to 'decolonise' museums to address their implicit racism (and sexism and ableism).

"The artificial concept of race has been the foundation of further theories that have aimed to justify the oppression of people who are not white.

"This creation of a narrative of inferiority has taken part, sometimes subtly, in social and cultural institutions.

"Racist narratives and assumptions, therefore, inevitably underlie the creation of many museum collections and how they have been interpreted."

MAITLAND: PORN EXPERTS CAN 'FIRE' HOLLYWOOD SEX SCENES

SOAP babe turned porn star Maitland Ward reckons mainstream Hollywood sex scenes are just NOT sexy.

untethered to the screen that I have rarely seen in film and television.

"Most sex in porn is shot in one fluid take, or with as few breaks as possible, while, in turn, mainstream scenes are a constant suffering of stopping and starting with lengthy breaks in between.

"It can begin to feel stilted and lose its fire."

Drunk driver's 'let me go' cop blowjob offer

A DRUNK driver who crashed her car offered to suck off the cop who nicked her, according to a police report.

Witnesses said a car being driven by a woman had mounted the kerb before rolling over a flower bed and crashing into a traffic sign in the township of Spring, Texas.

The driver ran away before police arrived.

But then a woman, identified in the police report as Dulce Ortiz, 21, turned up at the scene.

Ortiz was showing "several signs of intoxication," according to police, and it was quickly established that she had been the driver of the vehicle.

While she was being driven to the local police station, Ortiz allegedly worsened her situation by attempting to bribe the male cop by offering sexual acts and cash in exchange for being allowed to go free.

Ortiz (above) was arrested and booked into the Harris County Jail, charged with bribery.

PERVERT HAS SEX WITH CAT

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A VILE pervert was nicked and faces 20 years in the slammer after he had sex with a cat in a children's playground.

Warped Janting Anak Keling, 63, pleaded guilty to a charge of committing an unnatural sexual act with a cat when he appeared in front of a disgusted judge at the Sessions Court in Malaysia.

The alleged offence took place on April 16 at around 4.30am in a children's playground in the southern city of Skudai.

Working

Keling was charged under Section 377 of Malaysia's Penal Code meaning that he could be jailed for up to 20 years, handed a hefty fine or even caned.

Deputy Public Prosecutor S Thiviya

asked the court give Keling bail.

He added: "However, if the court wants to offer bail, we ask for a bail of £2,700 with one surety and the accused must report to the nearest police station."

Keling pleaded with judge Fatimah Zahari to lower bail, explaining that he was now unemployed and had travelled from another Malaysian island to appear in court.

The accused said: "I just came to Johor Baru from Sarawak and am currently not working. I am staying with my daughter."

The judge eventually set Keling's bail at £1,081 with the case set to continue on May 25.

The court heard that, sadly, the cat did not survive its ordeal.

FACTORY FIRE AN ABSOLUTE BANGER

had been working on a nightshift at Riverway Food in the industrial unit when fire alarms sounded.

"The fire was massive... you could see and feel the smoke all around Harlow," Ms Spanyik said.

"My husband works there, he was there when the fire started before 6am. The fire was really big and even when he left the firefighters were still working to stop the fire," she added.

Men tried to sell a cock and balls

TWO men have been arrested for attempting to sell a severed human cock and balls for £33,000.

The organs are reported to belong to a man who was murdered in Milange area in Mozambique's Zambezí province that borders Malawi.

The suspected traffickers, aged 29 and 32, are said to have proposed to a local trader that he buy the organs.

The trader, António Chicopa, contacted the local authorities, who ambushed the suspects.

The two suspects are in police custody waiting to appear in court.

Human genitalia are still used in sickening black magic rituals in parts of Africa.

WAGNER SAID 'NEVER' TO NAKED ATTRACTION

ZANY Former X Factor contestant Wagner Carrilho revealed he was approached to go on Channel 4's risqué dating show Naked Attraction... but said he "would never" take part.

The 66-year-old has gone down as one of the most recognisable contestants to ever take part in the former singing contest, back in 2010.

But in a new interview, he admitted he was given the chance to go on Naked Attraction.

The Channel 4 show sees singletons strip off in a bid to try to secure a date, based purely on their physical appearance.

Wagner (left) said: "They invited me the other day to go on Naked Attraction.

"I would never go there. Never!"

"I don't even know if it was a genuine phone call because my telephone number is on my website. But maybe it wasn't genuine."

Expert tracker's 'strong evidence' of big cats in UK

A TOP animal tracker says there are big cats living and breeding in the British countryside.

And Rhoda Watkins says that's GOOD... because it gets folk interested in nature.

Rhoda, of Redruth, Cornwall, has been researching big cats for years and says she has seen "strong evidence" of their presence in numerous rural areas across the UK.

She has been asked by livestock farmers and landowners to investigate unusual animal sightings and wildlife activity.

Rhoda (above) said: "The witnesses reporting these sightings are too credible to ignore."

"Police, wildlife rangers, ecologists, these are professional people who would never mistake a big cat for anything else."

"Anything that encourages people to take an interest in wildlife and nature, and that can help people to reconnect with the outdoors, is important."

AS LITTLE LOTTIE MOSS LETS IT ALL HANG OUT ON THE ROOFTOPS...

LOTTIE TO ADMIRE:
Moss suns herself

By SUZIE SHELDON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

LITTLE Lottie Moss was quick to show off her new lingerie as she paraded several alluring sets on her balcony.

Taking to her Instagram Story while modelling the Honey Birdette underwear in a full-length mirror, the model posed as the spring sunshine spotlighted her natural glow.

The half-sis of supermodel Kate Moss, 24, first donned a lace bodysuit, which featured white and nude hues, sheer detailing and not to mention added suspenders.

The OnlyFans sensation was the lady in red for another captivating look, which comprised a lace corset top and crisp, clean panties.

One fan said: "If she were my neighbour, I'd never be away from the window."

Lottie's not the only babe to go in for a sexy pose on the balcony.

ERIC Williams had the world at his feet.

He'd worked hard all his life and risen to become a prominent lawyer in Kaufman County, Texas, marrying loyal wife Kim along the way in 1996.

The neighbourhood viewed him as a loveable eccentric, someone often seen riding around the area on his two-wheeled Segway.

Seethed

He was eventually handed the role of Justice of the Peace – the equivalent of a UK magistrate presiding on cases in the lower levels of the state court system. But when he was exposed as a thief in 2012, his world began to crumble. Disgraced, suspended from practicing law, jobless and his reputation in tatters, Williams seethed and sought revenge.

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY

He amassed an arsenal of 30 guns, police tactical gear and a Segway car.

Then, over the course of two brutal months in 2013, he went after the state prosecutors who'd seen him convicted and ridiculed.

In the end, Williams – described as a "ruthless killing machine" – showed no emotion when he was handed a death sentence in December 2014.

His estranged wife, Kim, had turned police informant, blurting out the entire sorry affair in explosive courtroom testimony.

She said: "Eric was arrogant. He was thrilled. He acted like nothing happened."

When he was apprehended, Williams had two more names on his hit list as he planned to become a serial lawyer slayer, righting the "wrong" of his downfall.

As prosecutor Bill Wirsky pointed out: "These three murders were the culmination, the peak in an arc of past violence and anti-social, psychopathic behaviour on the part of Eric Williams."

Missing

"You will get a glimpse inside and see what lies beneath this facade of normalcy. You will find a deep-seated rage."

The rot had begun to set in during May 2011. Lori Freiman, who worked in IT at the Kaufman County court, returned to work one morning to find three of the department's new Dell computers had mysteriously gone missing.

She checked CCTV and was flabbergasted to see Judge Williams, now 49, hot-footing it away with them.

When police turned up at Williams's home to question him, they saw one of the computers sitting on his office desk, while another was stashed underneath some clothes.

Crossed, Williams came out fighting, saying he'd only swiped the tech because he'd been forced to "scrounge" for every bit of office equipment since taking on the job 12 months earlier.

By September 2012,

Williams had been disbarred and found guilty of burglary. He was handed a two-year suspended jail sentence.

An appeal was swiftly batted away by the courts as Williams desperately tried to claw back some dignity. He told a probation officer at the time: "My life has taken a drastic turn."

And soon, revenge was the only thing on his mind.

He then turned his attentions to the two men who'd seen him convicted – assistant district attorney Mark Hasse, 57, and 63-year-old district attorney Michael McLellan.

Kim said: "He would talk really nicely about them."

"He said he would like to kill them."

Williams scoured the internet. He bought a crossbow and learned how to produce homemade napalm.

Talking of Williams's plans to murder another lawyer, district court judge Glen Ashworth, Kim said: "He was going to wait until after the Super Bowl and go to Ashworth's house. He said he was going to shoot him with an arrow and then gouge out his stomach before filling it with the homemade napalm."

It was Mark Hasse, however, who became Williams's first victim. He was walking to his car from the courthouse when a masked Williams approached, and shoved him.

Anger

Mark pleaded for his life, shouting, "I'm sorry! I'm sorry!" before Williams let rip with a volley of gunfire that left his victim on the pavement in broad daylight, in a pool of his own blood.

Kim, the getaway driver, says her husband had been trying to recreate a scene from the 1993 western Tombstone, starring Kurt Russell, which features characters being targeted in the street.

She added: "His anger was my anger. He was excited. He was happy.

"It was a cold day and excitement was in the air.

"I couldn't watch the murder, though. I hurt. I couldn't watch him kill someone."

"I asked him if Mark had said anything and he told me Mark said, 'No, no – please, no'."

Car repair shop worker Martin Cerdá witnessed the murder. Speaking in court, he said: "I heard the victim say the words, 'I'm sorry'. Then I saw the gunman shoot him. The deceased fell down then his attacker came up to him and fired again while he was on the ground."

Attorney Linda Bush was another to glimpse the slaying. She said: "He shoved him again and at that point in time the shooter put the gun to Mark's neck and shot him."

Harrowing patrol car footage shows policemen performing CPR on the victim, desperately trying

INFRIDAY'S

JUDGE

AS a Justice of the Peace, it was Eric Williams's job to uphold the law. Instead he trampled all over it, going on a gruesome gun rampage that left three people dead following a courtroom disagreement...

REMORSELESS:
Williams in court and (left) on death row

he started planning his next massacre.

Kim revealed: "He was happy. He was now ready to kill Mike McLelland."

On March 30, Williams turned up at the home of Michael and his wife Cynthia, a nurse at a local mental health facility, armed to the teeth with handguns and assault rifles. He was wearing a tactical vest, night vision goggles and a sheriff's badge.

Kim, who waited outside the property, again as his getaway driver, explained: "He goes inside and I hear shots, a lot of shots.

Alarm

"He didn't tell me about Mike but he did tell me about Cynthia. He told me he had to shoot her an extra time because she was still moaning."

Dallas police officer Chris Tomlinson was one of the first on the scene after the alarm was raised.

He took refuge for an astonishing two months.

Police launched a nationwide manhunt, voicing fears that Mark had been killed by the Aryan Brotherhood, a prison gang whose members he'd helped to flee unrecognised.

He left the victims' family members in tears after describing in court the scene of devastation he witnessed inside the home.

He said: "There was Cynthia, lying on the ground. She was in a pool of dried blood. There was nothing anyone could do at that point."

Williams, meanwhile, was slowly becoming ever more unhinged as

Cynthia, a 65-year-old who loved quilting and who had recently been diagnosed with Parkinson's, was cut down with an AR-15 assault rifle.

During a later description of the gunshot wounds, jurors were shown pictures of how she'd suffered a shot to the top of her skull that travelled downwards and out of her chin.

She'd also sustained wounds to various other parts of her body, including her chest area and genitals.

Prosecutor Wirskey added: "Williams then stood over McLelland, pumping a torrent of lead into his body.

"He fired at least 20 rounds in under two minutes."

After the massacre, Williams was still at large.

And, while the police manhunt raged all around him, he started getting cocky.

In a gloating email to the US equivalent of CrimeStoppers, he boasted: "Do we have your full attention now?"

In the message he took credit for the killings, revealing many details that only the perpetrator could know.

But his pomposity was also his undoing – detectives were able to trace the email back to his home address.

There they uncovered a "treasure trove of evidence" and a cache of weapons – including the rifle that had been used to kill the McLellands.

Williams was arrested on April 18, 2013. Which, according to Kim, was just in the nick of time – she later revealed how he'd been plotting the murders of County Court Judges Erleigh Norville Wiley and Glen Ashworth.

And when he was found guilty of the slayings, Judge Michael Keasler dished out the ultimate punishment.

He said: "In addition to the three murders he had committed and the two that he was planning at the time of his arrest, Eric Williams had a general history of making threats when he became angry or wanted to control others.

GUILTY

"He threatened to kill other attorneys over perceived insults and injuries."

"Taking all this into account, I must conclude that any rational person would find beyond a reasonable doubt that there was a probability Williams would commit criminal acts of violence constituting a continuing threat to society."

Kim Williams avoided a death sentence by pleading guilty to her role as her husband's assistant and was given 40 years behind bars.

ARRESTED:
Eric and Kim Williams' mugshots to save his life while he's heard struggling to breathe.

Tragically, he was declared dead at the hospital with gunshot wounds to his chest and head.

Assault

Ironically, he had been carrying a gun of his own underneath his jacket.

Such had been the ferocity and speed of Williams's assault, Mark had not even had chance to reach for it.

Incredibly, despite the shooting happening in a highly public place during the morning rush hour, Williams somehow managed to flee unrecognised.

He took refuge for an astonishing two months.

Police launched a nationwide manhunt,

MONSTERS OF DEATH ROW

THE WORLD'S MOST EVIL MURDERERS AND THE HORRIFIC CRIMES THAT SAW THEM SENTENCED TO EXECUTION...

LAG TOLD HIS MUM: THE LADY SCREW IS TOSSING ME OFF!

TOSSER:
Jody Mosley

Officer smuggled tobacco for jailbird

WHEN a 34-year-old jailbird asked a lady screw to smuggle chewing tobacco into prison for him she was happy to oblige...

For a price.

But all Jody Mosley wanted was to grab hold of the con's criminal COCK and wank it off until his offending seed spilled on the floor of the cell.

All would have been well, especially as the jailbird's cellmate was paid off with yet more tobacco.

But the blabbermouth convict spilled the beans on the illicit hand shandies in a phone call to his MOTHER!

Relations

Mosley was sacked from the Cass County jail in Linden, Texas, and charged with engaging in sexual acts with an inmate and bringing contraband into the jail for him.

Police believe 49-year-old Mosley was engaged in sexual relations with a 34-year-old inmate at the jail while she was employed there.

An investigator heard phone calls between the inmate and his mother, where he told her Mosley had been sexually assaulting him for about a month and half.

As a convict cannot legally consent to sexual activity with a guard, all sexual contact is classed as assault.

The investigator also met with an inmate who shared a cell with the man involved with Mosley and claims he watched out for other guards while Mosley performed a sex act on his cellmate.

He also said his cellmate gave him tobacco that Mosley brought in as payment for acting as their lookout.

WEEKEND Sport THE BIRTHDAY REVENGE KILLER

darelle OLIVER

FUN-LOVING Darelle Oliver is a bit of prankster. Her favourite trick is an electric buzzer that shocks when people shake her hand.

The practical joker bought the device in a shop in Hamburg while on a hen do and loves to surprise people when they first meet her.

Darelle, 34C, from Welwyn Garden City, Herts, confessed: "I like nothing better than joking around and having a good laugh.

"People think butter wouldn't melt in my mouth, but I am a real trickster."

"I love my hand buzzer and I've also got a whoopee cushion that I use to great effect and fake dog poo that I love leaving around."

HORN,
HOT,

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Ignore the loony keyboard warriors

AFTER years of expecting the inevitable, I became the target of a social media "pile-on" last week.

The screeching hordes came after me for daring to say something that many other people are saying.

And that was simply this: When the local council election candidates knock at your door asking for your votes this week, ask every one of them if they could please provide the definition of a woman.

It was actually said as part of a two-pronged question about those seeking to rule the area where I live.

So the first part of the question was to not unreasonably ask if the candidate would support or be against such-and-such a local cause (in this case, a disgraceful decision to stop maintaining a beach).

And then there was the second part, which was what sparked trouble with the keyboard warriors.

The only way to conflate these two issues sensibly is to use them as I did, which was to ask if these people refuse to use your council tax to look after your beach, as you've requested, then do they deserve your vote?

Madness

Likewise, if they can't "define" what 51% of the human population is – women, by the way – then do you want them in charge of other things, like, say, the defence of our country?

But neither of these things mattered when the online madness took over.

"Fascist bigot" was one of the nicer observations about me.

I was, naturally, also a "transphobe". And various words beginning with 'c' that may well have rhymed with "runt".

The truth behind the attacks is that they had very little to do with my sticking up for women, who fought long and hard not just for the vote but for their rights in the home, workplace, and society in general.

But it had everything to do with something else.

You could tell this by the way some of the commentators referred to my comment being "typical of a Brexiteer" – which had nothing whatsoever to do with either issue.

Thus, not only was I guilty of the greatest crime ever committed on European soil – no, not the Holocaust, apparently, but Brexit – but I was a transphobe, too.

So since the morning of June 27, 2016, I have, um, transitioned from being just an every day Joe Bloggs to a racist, bigot, xenophobic transphobe and, presumably, half-hazard or something, too.

Hypocritical

These accusations are almost as mad as the people who spray them around like confetti.

Militant-lite Corbynistas present themselves as "progressive" and "liberal".

Yet there is nothing "liberal" about closing down a perfectly sensible debate about what defines a woman.

(Nor is there anything wrong with asking for a clean beach, either.)

But there is everything wrong with screaming people down for questioning their dogma and to do so is to act like, well, a fascist.

These self-righteous, hypocritical twerps use the considerable power of social media to try to cancel others.

In my case, to try to get me sacked from a job I left 14 years ago (they're not big on research, clearly).

So my advice is 'take no notice', which I don't.

Ignore them instead.

It drives them even madder than they were in the first place.

FROM HOXTON,
E LONDON

FMY biggest turn on at the moment is the idea of being a dominatrix.

My dom name would be Mistress Scarlett. My alter ego would allow me to wear fierce red lipstick, towering high heels and super skin tight clothes including catsuits and vinyl pencil skirts and corsets.

Mistress Scarlett is powerful, bossy, unapologetic, confident and very dirty.

When I'm her, I can be anything I want to be and don't have to explain myself to anyone about what I would like to do.

I have a dungeon with a restraint chair, a spanking bench and various floggers, paddles and whips hung up on the wall.

I've got blindfolds, feather ticklers, gags, gimp masks, vibrators, dildos, strap-ons, butt plugs... I've got everything you need to have fun.

The men go wild for me to dominate them and tell them what sissies they are!

Climate activist dies after setting himself on fire

A CLIMATE loon who set himself on fire on Earth Day outside the United States Supreme Court Building has died, according to cops.

Wynn Bruce, 50, of Boulder, Colorado, died at the weekend, a day after he set himself ablaze in Washington, D.C., the Metropolitan Police Department said.

The incident happened on the plaza in front of the court building.

He was airlifted to a local hospital, where he died.

A Facebook page belonging to a person named Wynn Bruce said he was a Buddhist and a climate activist.

In 2020, Bruce left a Facebook comment that included a fire emoji and the date of his death, 4/22/2022.

A Buddhist priest from Boulder called his death "an act of compassion."

"This act is not suicide. This is a deeply fearless act of compassion to bring attention to climate crisis," Dr K Kritee wrote.

Pepperoni pizza with a cannabis topping, please!

OFFICIALS are weighing up whether to allow pizzerias and other eateries to sell fresh cannabis-infused grub and packaged pot edibles.

Aaron Ghitelman, a spokesman for the New York State Office of Cannabis Management, confirmed there have been discussions about awarding such licences to food preparers, raising the possibility of offerings such as pesto pot pizza or pepperoni with sweet weed sauce.

But "the regulations regarding infused food products have not been released yet," Ghitelman said.

The Empire State passed a bill legalising recreational marijuana last year.

The first licences to sell weed will be issued in the autumn, with sales in neighbourhood stores to begin by the end of 2022.

Cop describes spunky session in classroom

SEX MISS SUCKED OFF TEEN AT LUNCH BREAK

COCK ON THE MENU:
Patricia Evans

GEORDIE Shore babe Bethan Kershaw showed she can even make a cardigan sexy in these stunning snaps.

The 27-year-old's full, plump boobs stretched the knitwear to bursting as she shared the snaps with her 756,000 Insta followers during a country chalet break.

One fan said: "Looks like the country air has got to her teats, as her nipples are stiffer than a dead sheep."

WHEN the school dinner bell rang, the corridors filled with pupils scrambling to the hall for the midday meal.

But while students tucked into traditional Alabama fare such as grits and gravy, possum pie and good ol' fashioned crawfish chowder, teacher Patricia Evans had something VERY different on the menu.

The dripping-fannied 26-year-old reached into the pants of a 17-year-old lad she'd asked to stay behind and fished out his stiffening teen cock.

She then wrapped her pretty lips around his swollen glans and sucked him off until her mouth was flooded with hishotyouthfulSPUNK!

The following day, Evans again asked the lad to stay behind after class at Theodore High School in Mobile, Alabama.

Puckered

But this time she dropped her steamy panties, bent over the desk and begged the lusty lad to thrust his penis into her ravenous vagina while fingering her puckered bumhole.

Now Evans' illicit lunchbreak bonks have come back to haunt her.

After being arrested on suspicion of having an "inappropriate relationship with a student", she has since appeared in court for a preliminary hearing.

Cops say Evans

committed various sex acts with the teenager.

During the hearing, a detective testified about a conversation with the victim, who said the sexual acts took place in a classroom during lunch.

But Evans' attorney, Dennis Knizley, said his client is innocent.

"It is what the officer said, the student said, and I think once you get to court, I think once you get to a trial, things are going to be considerably different," Knizley said.

The case will go to a grand jury, who will determine if Evans will go to trial.

Last night, a local police source said: "Hell, that woman did things with that boy, the likes of which I ain't ever heard afore.

"I've done married to the wife for 30 years and we ain't never got up to antics like this, no sir!"

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Ava,

I'M was sitting stark naked on the sofa in my flat the other day and the nipples on the end of my 23-year-old pert breasts were erect and covered in raspberry jam.

I got jam all over my fingers and slowly sucked them then smeared more of the stuff all over my boobs.

It was a family-sized jar of jam but I was determined to work my way through it, shoving my fingers in deep and pulling out great dollops to use on myself.

Naturally, I spread my legs and smeared the jam over my shaved pussy and worked three fingers up my jam-filled hole.

I push my fingers in harder and harder, then got more jam to a sticky climax.

Then I licked my fingers clean of jam and my juices before having a much-needed shower.

I love it, but is my fetish too weird, do you think?

FK, Hants

Ava says...

IT might get you in a pickle one day!

Dear Ava,

MY mate's girlfriend is gorgeous – a busty blonde in her early 20s.

I'd wanted to give her one for ages and a month or so ago I did.

We were both at a party, and her boyfriend was working away. She invited me back to her place and I knew what she was after.

After a few minutes snogging on the couch, she got my cock out and slurped along its length before I returned the favour and then entered her from behind.

I saw her a couple of times after that, and she's phoned me and told me she wants to leave my pal for me.

I'm tempted, but I'm not sure if I could do the dirty on my mate. What should I do?

TF, Merseyside

Ava says...

IT'S as good a time as any to say no... .

I'm in a sticky spot over chodate sex!

Dear Ava,

MY girlfriend surprised me the other week when she bought some Creme Eggs and put one up her fanny – and told me to eat it out!

I have to say the chocolate and fondant filling tasted even better.

She loved it, too, and as another special treat she melted down one of her left-over Easter eggs and covered my cock with molten chocolate.

Then she sucked me off until she got a mouthful of my hot white chocolate sauce.

Later on she asked me to take her from behind – and ordered me to slip my massive knob into her tight chocolate starfish!

The only problem now is that she only gets horny when there is chocolate involved in our sex games – she was absolutely bloody rampant at Easter!

Up until then we'd just have boring "missionary" sex – with no chocolate or food of any kind needed.

How can I make her more horny without getting sweet treats all over the bedding?

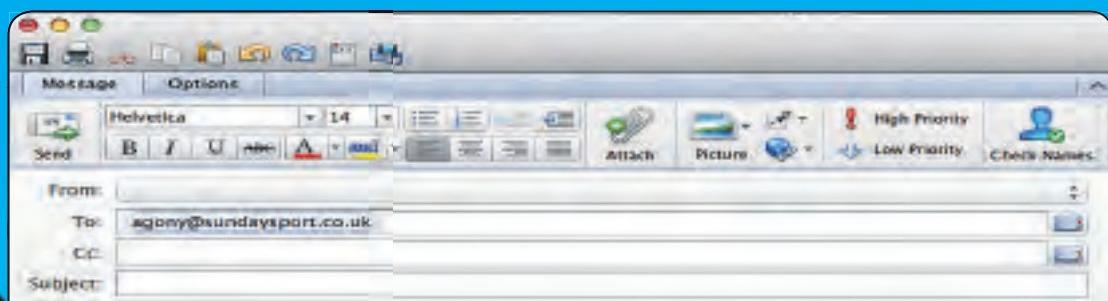

PM, Glasgow

Ava says...

KEEP a box of antiseptic wipes in the bedroom and try not to get it on the valance!

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or xperience – than our own Agony Angels! This week AVA DALUSH has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

I spy on boss's wife as worker gives her one!

Dear Ava,

DURING the past few months I've been thinking and I'm now on the cusp of speaking out about an affair at work.

I work at a local domestic appliance factory, where the boss's wife has an office next door to the main building.

Some time last year I noticed that the foreman seemed to be spending more and more time in the office with her – especially when the boss was out.

One day I happened to be in the yard passing the office when I glanced through the half-open door and saw the foreman go up behind the boss's wife and put his hands on her boobs!

He then put his hand up her back, undid her bra and began massaging her tits, which had her moaning and groaning in obvious delight.

I slipped away before they noticed me but since then I watched them every chance I could get from the window of a storeroom overlooking the yard.

For several days nothing seemed to happen and I'd just about given up when I saw the foreman slipping to the office.

I rushed up to my vantage point which has a clear view through the office window.

She was speaking on the phone when the foreman came up behind her and lifted her tight skirt just enough so I could see her stockings and a small pair of white knickers.

He tugged down her panties and put his fingers straight up her fanny and she began sighing as he plunged them in and out of her.

She bent over the desk and spread her legs as far as she could, then he got out his cock and filled her.

I was wanking away and I think we all climaxed together – it was so hot!

My problem is that I feel so bad about knowing their guilty secret as I'm sure her husband does not know what's going on.

What should I do?

FG, London

Ava says...

NOTHING – if you want to keep your job. And stop being a Peeping Tom.

Dear Ava,

I'M a divorced mum of 38 and I'm sleeping with a lad aged 18, who lives on the same estate as me.

He chatted me up in the pub one night and I was flattered with the attention of a young stud so I let him f me back to his flat.

As soon as I saw his nine-inch dick I wanted it in every hole.

At first I sucked him off until he came heavily all over my 38DDs.

Then after a little rest he did me hard and fast from behind.

It was good, honest, animalistic sex – just what I like.

We now have regular sex but he wants me to shag some of his mates as well.

I'm tempted because they are all fit lads. But my friends say he's just using me and that I shouldn't see him any more.

What do you reckon?

JH, email

Ava says...

FIT lads, you say? Go for it!

I missed sex but new fella comes in handy

Dear Ava,

I'M a woman of 41 and I recently sold a very successful business.

Although I enjoyed every minute of building the firm, I missed out on relationships with men.

But I discovered recently that one of my married female friends has been having an affair with her personal trainer.

He gives her incredible sex, so she says, and in return she gives him little presents.

I laughed at the idea at first but later, while I was alone at home and playing with my sex toys, I thought: "Why don't I get a man in, too?"

Then it struck me I already had one – my handyman.

So the next time he was due to call I greeted him more warmly than usual. I was quite blatant and told him that just looking at him made me feel really horny.

He got the message and I led him to my bedroom and we enjoyed a couple of hours of non-stop sex.

The next time he came to visit I gave him a little present – a watch – and he more than repaid me between the sheets.

But he's really in demand at the moment, which means he can't come round to bone me. I wonder if I should I settle down with him permanently?

RW, Somerset

Ava says...

SEEMS to me you've got plenty to offer him, so why not.

Dear Ava,

I'VE been married for 10 years and recently found out my hubby was having an affair.

A month ago I had a phone call from my mum saying she couldn't get through to my sister – who lives just round the corner from me.

She asked me to go to check and when I arrived at the house at 10pm, all the lights were off except one in the bedroom.

We have keys to each other's houses so I crept upstairs to the bedroom, where her door was ajar and I saw two figures writhing on the bed.

And I was horrified to see that her lover was my HUSBAND!

She was groaning with pleasure and I stood and watched as they had sex in several positions – some of them were completely new to me – before I crept back out of the house.

When my treacherous husband got back about midnight, he said he had been to the pub with his mates, the bloody liar.

I don't know whether to leave him or have an affair myself.

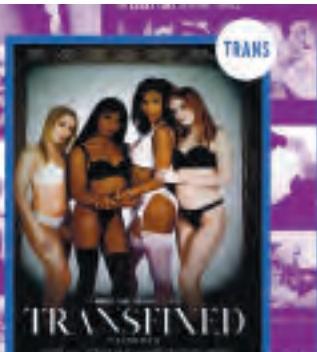

BW, Birmingham

Ava says...

YOU'RE going to have to have it out with them both.

patty MICHובה

PATTY Michova reckons she's got the world's best BREASTS!

The top-heavy 34F wonder went under the knife three years ago to get a truly mouthwatering pair.

But the brunette beauty says most folk are convinced that she's all-natural because her bouncy charms are so eye-poppingly gorgeous.

The Slovak stunner, who now lives in north London, said: "I get asked the question all the time, 'So... are your lovely boobs real?'

"And I take that as a huge compliment because very few people can tell that they are actually fake."

She added: "My breasts feel wonderful, too, and I've had no complaints from any male friends in the bedroom."

Patty likes anal and DP. And spunk. She really likes spunk.

EXCLUSIVE! The world's poshest porno is here at last!

SPECIAL OFFER: ANY 3 PRIVATE SHOPS DVDS
FOR £25 (was £75)

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy
Crawleys of Downton
Abbey and hello to the
horny hotties of buxom Bottomey Manor!

For all you red-blooded
fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5
OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomey Manor, home to the Lord Grubhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee)
Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous stepdaughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grubhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler
Smallie and footman
Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDS at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars
Ava Dalush as Missey, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grubhem,
Jasmine James as Fanny
Grubhem, Jess West as Lady
Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby
Grubhem, Ben Dover as
Lord Will Grubhem, Big Bad
Dave as Smithers and
Clarke Kent as Master
Bates.

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

MICHELLE COLLINS

CAR mechanic Martin Abbott would love to tinker with glamour legend Michelle Collins.

The 54-year-old, from Wigan, begged to see a photo of Michelle and her sweater-stretching 32F boobs.

Martin's ultimate fantasy is for the Exeter babe to let him service her engine. He said: "Michelle is my all-time fave woman, she's got huge boobs and gorgeous hair.

"I'd love to give her a good check-over. I'd probably have to insert my dipstick into her, just to check she's fully lubricated!"

SEXY Rosanna loves getting down and dirty... while she's getting clean in the bath.

The beauty, from Lowestoft, Suffolk, says she enjoys her time alone in the bathroom because she can give herself a good rub down.

Stripping off to reveal her impressive 32D boobs, Rosanna said: "There's nothing quite like a good, long soak in a bubble bath."

"I like to take my time and gently wash and scrub my whole body with a big, wet sponge."

"I like the water really hot so the steam opens my pores and gives me a good, deep cleansing."

"It's nice to have a man to help soap my back too."

"But even if I'm on my own I'm super flexible, so I can run my hands and the sponge over every last bit of my body, including all the sensitive bits."

"Then I hop out and pat myself down with a fluffy towel before slipping into some sexy lingerie... ready for my fella."

WANTED: De Jong

Frenkie a blankie for new Reds boss Erik

NEW Manchester United boss Erik Ten Hag looks set to miss out on his first major target.

He wants fellow Dutchman Frenkie De Jong as a big summer signing.

The pair worked together at Ajax before he signed for Barcelona.

Ten Hag wants the playmaker to replace Paul Pogba who is leaving at the end of this season on a free transfer.

But the player's agent father says De Jong will be staying with the Catalans.

And the rainy Manchester WEATHER is a major factor in the decision.

De Jong Sr said: "It's often bad weather there in Manchester, of course, it's about football, but it does matter."

"Of course, I know that Barcelona needs money and a great offer for Frenkie could help, but I don't see it happening any time soon."

Important

"Although, five top European clubs have all called."

Barcelona manager Xavi has also made it clear that De Jong will be going nowhere.

He has become a key man with 43 appearances so far this season for Barcelona who are being rebuilt under the club legend.

He said: "Frenkie is very important for me, for the club and for the team."

"He is a footballer who has to mark an era with his quality and personality."

"He is at a very good level since I arrived and he has to continue scoring goals, assists, and being the protagonist in games."

"He could be one of the best midfielders in the world in the coming years."

With Bruno Fernandes looking a broken man, there's little doubt that United need creativity in the middle of the park.

Another player being linked is Youri Tielemans who has been a key man for Leicester in recent seasons.

He has rejected an extension to his deal at the King Power and the Foxes are not certain to have European football next season.

Kane fears Arsenal have hit form at right time in Champions League race

ARSENAL are the team to beat in the top-four race.

That's the view of Tottenham skipper Harry Kane who is alarmed as the performances his side have been putting in.

While the Gunners were picking up a good three points at home to Manchester United, Spurs were huffing and puffing to a 0-0 draw against Brentford.

That came on the back of a 1-0 beating at home against Brighton.

Arsenal currently sit in fourth place, two points ahead of Spurs with a further four back to struggling United.

The Gunners have still to play West Ham, Leeds, Spurs, Newcastle and Everton.

For Tottenham, they have the north London derby along with Leicester, Liverpool, Burnley and Norwich. Given their current form it's hard to know how Antonio Conte's men will fare against the struggling sides while it will be hard to pick up any points at Anfield.

By PAUL THOMAS

Kane can't hide his frustration after playing Brighton and Brentford and winning neither match.

He said: "To only get one point from those two games is disappointing."

"We're running out of games in terms of dropping points."

"There are five games left and we feel like we are pretty much going to have to win all of them to get that spot."

"We are more than capable of doing that, we believe in that and that is what we'll try and do."

Thanks to the north London derby, Tottenham's fate is still in their own hands but Kane knows it won't be easy to leapfrog their rivals in current form.

The England skipper added: "Is it still in our hands? Yeah."

"If we win the last five games we will be in the Champions League, so that is how we've got to look at it."

"We know those five games will be difficult, we go to Liverpool away as well which will be very tough."

Working

"As we've seen this season, we have dropped points against teams where we were probably expected to win and so have the others around us. It is by all means not done yet."

"I think we've done great to put ourselves in this position we're in now but it is about who can finish it off."

We have to stay focused and keep working hard. We have a little gap now to prepare and work and hopefully we can go ahead and put in a good performance against Leicester."

Conte has come in for lots of stick for not putting out a more attacking line-up against the Bees.

He only brought on Lucas Moura to beef up the forward line with four minutes left to play.

Unsurprisingly, that was too late to make a difference.

Conte has defended that call and insists he was doing the right thing.

The Italian said: "Don't forget sometimes the most important thing is to continue to have a good balance."

"Because otherwise if you want to go only to win then sometimes you risk to lose the game."

Conte can't hide his anger at the way results have taken a turn for the worse at Spurs.

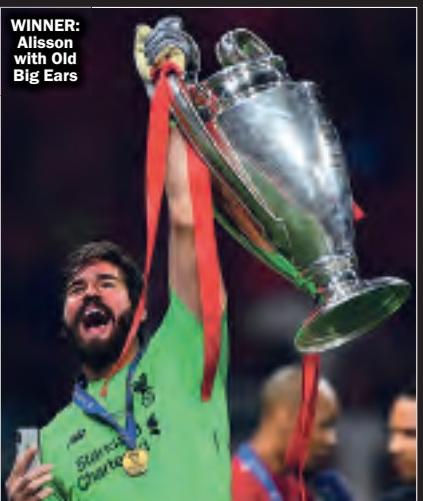

Tottenham have not even had a shot on target in their past two games and that's clearly an issue.

The Italian said: "We are struggling

Old Big Ears the toughest says Alisson

By ANDY MILLOM

WINNING the Champions League is the No1 target for Liverpool goalie Alisson Becker.

The Reds are still fighting on three fronts after securing the Carabao Cup. The fight with Manchester City in the Premier League will go down to the wire while Chelsea await in the FA Cup final.

But the big Brazilian has his heart setting on lifting a second Champions League title since arriving on Merseyside. Spanish overachievers Villareal await in the semis.

Alisson thinks it's harder to win Europe's top trophy than the Premier League.

He said: "There was a lot of desire to lift the trophy, to lift the 'Big Ears', even before we won the Champions League.

"Winning the Champions League is something special in a player's career.

"It is the best possible achievement for a club. It is the toughest competition to win, and we have managed to do it once.

"And when you win it, and you experience that moment, the thought that fills your mind is that you want to be part of that moment again, you want to experience it again.

"We know it is very difficult, but we know how it's done. We will try our best so that we can do it again this year."

Jürgen Klopp has been earning plaudits for the way he has kept his squad firing on four fronts for such a long time.

Alisson thinks the team can cope with losing any player to injury – because it's the manager that deserves all the credit.

He added: "He is the key figure in our squad. He is the foundation of our team. He is the one who started it all. Our mentality is just like his.

"He chose all the players in the team, signed most of them, and brought most of them here."

"And not just because of his qualities as a coach, but also because of the type of person he is, his character.

"He is the person who keeps us united, and who is responsible for reminding us in the decisive moments of how strong we are together and united, and he is also the one keeping our feet on the ground, so we're not distracted by the good results that we have been getting over the past few years."

HOT FORM:
Arteta

because we are finding teams who when we are in possession, we find 10 players defending in their half of the pitch.

"I watched Brentford's game at Chelsea. They were very deep with 10 players and scored four goals on the counter-attack with the two strikers ready to attack the space. When that situation happens, you have to pay great attention.

Offensive

"At the same time, we have to try to improve, because Manchester City finds this type of situation in every game.

"Then, they have to find the solutions, because they find teams defending very deep. We have to try to improve, because defensively we were good, offensively I think we can do much better.

"Now we have to continue to work, play these last five games and see at the end of the season the position we are able to reach."

It was an emotional reunion for Christian Eriksen with the Spurs legend putting in another brilliant display for Brentford.

There has been speculation linking him with a return to Tottenham next season.

Manchester United are also thought to be interested in the 30-year-old but a return to north London seems more likely should he decide to leave Brentford.

The Dane said: "Obviously it was the first time playing against Spurs since I left so it would be special, but I'm okay with a draw."

"I was extra nervous but it was lovely to play against them in such a good game."

"I'm still a Spurs fan."

"I hope they get in the Champions League."

SPURS JOB SWAP

Conte to PSG while Poch comes home

ANTONIO Conte and Mauricio Pochettino could be in for a sensational job swap this summer.

Paris St Germain look set to sack the former Spurs gaffer after he again failed to achieve in the Champions League. And they want current

By JOHN ANTHONY

Tottenham boss Conte to replace the Argie.

The Italian has never looked happy in north London and has dropped some major hints that he will leave at the end of the season.

He has questioned the club's vision for the future and the amount of money he has been given to play with in the transfermarket.

He has just one year left on his deal and PSG would be more than happy to pay any release fee.

Pochettino would be a popular appointment with Spurs fans who have seen their club stagnate since he left two seasons ago.

The return of Mo Po could also help to keep

Harry Kane at the club as it's known he has a good relationship with Poch.

A lot will depend on whether Zinedine Zidane wants a return to club management.

He would be the first choice of PSG but Conte is a clear first reserve and the France legend has yet to commit his future to the Parisian giants.
